II. BE IT ENACTED, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall and may be lawful for the chancellor to inquire into the circumstances relating to the bequests aforesaid, and if he should be of opinion that the legacies bequeathed to the said Philip Green and Jacob Green would be more to their advantage than their claim on the estate of the said Richard Green, that then the chancellor may authorise the said Christopher Hyatt, or such other person as he may think proper, to execute releases, on behalf and in the name of the said Philip Green and Jacob Green, of their claim against the estate of the said Richard Green, on such terms as to him may appear equitable and right, and releases so executed shall have the same effect in law as if the said Philip Green and Jacob Green had been of lawful age, and had executed the same; and it shall be lawful for the chancellor to make any such further order in the premises as justice and equity may require; provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter, or in any manner affect, the limitations over contained in the last will of the said Jacob Green, on the event of the death of the said minors.
