

congress, which met at New York, in January, 1785.

During the congress which met in November, 1785, and continued in session until November, 1786, James M'Henry, Mr. Henderson, Mr. Harrison, John Henry and Nathaniel Ramsay, appeared as members.

On the 2d Monday in December, 1786, William Harrison, William Hindman, Uriah Forrest, David Ross and Nathaniel Ramsay, were chosen delegates to congress for one year, by the legislature of Maryland.

In the congress of 1788, John Eager Howard B. Contee, Mr. Seney and Mr. Ross, attended as delegates from Maryland.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

By an act passed by the general assembly of Maryland, on the 26th May, 1787, "James M'Henry, Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer, Daniel Carroll, John Francis Mercer and Luther Martin, esq. were appointed on behalf of the state of Maryland, to meet such deputies as may be appointed and authorised by any other of the United States, to assemble in convention at Philadelphia for the purpose of revising the federal system, and to join with them in considering such alterations and further provisions as may be necessary to render the federal constitution adequate to the exigencies of the union; and in reporting such an act for that