

Church, as enacted by Chapter 409 of the Acts of 1884, be and the same are hereby repealed and re-enacted with amendments, to read as follows:

3. The government of said corporation and the management of its property, business and affairs are hereby vested in a board of governors, to be known as the board of governors of the Westminster Theological Seminary of the Methodist Protestant Church, composed of eleven persons, constituted as follows: The president of the faculty of said seminary ex-officio, and five ministers and five laymen elected by the general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, and the said board of governors, as such, shall constitute the said corporation.

6. The general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church shall, at its session next succeeding June 1, 1922, and at each quadrennial session thereafter elect five ministers and five laymen to fill the vacancy occasioned by the expiration of the terms of office of those members of said board of governors previously elected by said general conference; and the members of said board of governors thus elected, with the President of the Westminster Theological Seminary, a member ex-officio, shall succeed to all the rights, powers and privileges, and perform all the duties herein conferred and imposed upon their immediate predecessor in office, and shall at the expiration of their term of office surrender all their rights, powers, privileges and prerogatives as said corporation, as well as said board of governors, to their successors; and any vacancy occurring in said board of governors by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by said board until the ensuing session of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, when an election shall be held to fill such vacancy; but failure to elect members of said board of governors shall not work a forfeiture of this charter or the dissolution of the corporation hereby created, or of the privileges hereby granted.

9. The president of the said board of governors, the treasurer, two other members of the Board of Governors and the president of said seminary, ex-officio, shall constitute the local or executive board of said governors; and that this local or executive board be elected annually by the board of governors, and shall discharge all the duties of the entire board during the interim of its session.
