or passed during the term, or upon a motion or application made during the term at which said judgment was entered, and no more; but any such action taken or order passed after the expiration of forty days from the entry of any judgment, (unless upon a motion or application made within that time), shall have the same effect and force as it would have had under such previous practice, if taken or passed after the expiration of said term, and no more; and the said courts shall respectively have, for a period of forty days after the doing of any act or thing in any cause before them, the same revisory power and control over such act or thing which, under the practice heretofore existing, they would have had over the same during the term at which it was done, and no more; and after forty days from the doing of any such act or thing, the said courts shall have the same revisory power and control thereover, which, under such previous practice they would have had after the expiration of the term at which said act or thing was done, and no more, provided, however, that executions may issue upon all judgments except judgments of condemnation in attachment suits at any time after judgment is entered, provided that no sale thereunder shall be had within the forty (40) days provided for above.

Approved April 26, 1927.
