

immediate preservation of the public health and safety, and being passed upon a ye and nay vote, supported by three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses of the General Assembly, the same shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved December 15, 1933.

CHAPTER 91.

AN ACT to add eleven new sections to Article 81 of the Code of Public General Laws of Maryland, 1929 Supplement, title "Revenue and Taxes", to follow immediately after Section 198, and to be known as Sections 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, and 209, to be under a new sub-title known as "Special County and Municipal Taxes", to authorize and empower each county, incorporated town, and city of the State of Maryland, except the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to make a levy upon any and all taxable property within the limits of each county, incorporated town or city of the State of Maryland, and in anticipation of such levy, to incur indebtedness and borrow money on its individual faith and credit; to issue notes, certificates of indebtedness or other evidence of indebtedness; all funds so raised, borrowed or obtained to be used for the general protection and preservation of the safety, peace, health and welfare of the State and each county, incorporated town or city thereof, by providing assistance, food, shelter, supplies, necessities, work, work in conjunction or cooperation with the State or Federal Government and other relief for the unemployed and destitute residents and inhabitants of each such county, incorporated town or city of the State of Maryland; to provide for the repayment of all loans, and indebtedness incurred with interest thereon by a general tax levy on all taxable property within each such political entity; to provide certain limitations upon the amount which may be borrowed, and certain limitations upon the maturity of all obligations incurred under the provisions of this Act; to provide for the sale of any or all obligations issued under this Act; and to provide for the carrying into full force and effect any and all things necessary, expedient or incidental to the accomplishment of the general purposes of this Act.