

The word "knowingly," as used in this Act as to minors, shall be construed to mean such knowledge as a reasonable man would have under ordinary circumstances from the appearance of the minors or individual, and as to habitual drunkards, the word "knowingly" shall be construed to mean such knowledge as a reasonable man would have under ordinary circumstances from the habits, appearance, or personal reputation of such individual.

Section 316H. (a) It shall be unlawful for any licensee under this Act to employ any person under the age of twenty-one years in the sale of alcoholic beverages or in connection with the business thereof.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any licensee under this Act to allow any minor or minors under the age of twenty-one years to loaf or loiter about the place of business for which such license is issued.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any licensee under this Act to keep or maintain any bawdy house upon the licensed premises or in connection therewith, nor shall any licensee, except bona fide hotels, have or operate any room or rooms for the purposes of women, or in which any person shall be served alcoholic beverages, except the main room for which said license is issued, or premises described in the application.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any licensee under this Act to allow any gambling of any character upon the premises for which said license is issued.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any licensee under this Act to allow any disorderly or disreputable persons to congregate at the place for which such license is granted.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any licensee, holding a license under this Act for the sale of alcoholic beverages by clubs, to let the privilege granted under such license to any person by any manner of agreement under which such person to whom such privilege might be let could make profit thereby.

(g) It shall be unlawful for any retail dealer to purchase any of the respective alcoholic beverages except from a duly licensed manufacturer or wholesaler of such respective alcoholic beverage legally entitled to sell the same, and no retail dealer shall at any time keep or permit to be kept upon the licensed premises any alcoholic beverages except those so purchased.
