

206C. The State Board of Health shall have the power to revoke any license issued under the provisions of this Act, provided before revoking any license the State Board of Health shall have given written notice to the licensee affected, stating that it contemplates the revocation of the same and giving its reasons therefor. Such notice shall appoint a time of hearing before said State Board of Health and shall be sent by registered mail to the licensee. On the day of the hearing, the licensee may present such evidence to the said State Board of Health as he deems fit, and after hearing all the evidence the State Board of Health shall decide the question in such a manner as to it appears just and right. Any licensee whose license is revoked or suspended may appeal within ten days after such hearing before the said State Board of Health to the Circuit Court for the county in which said cannery is situated or to the Baltimore City Court, if said cannery is situated in Baltimore City, and the decision of such court shall be final. Provided, however, that the revocation of any license given under the authority of this Act shall not become effective until fifteen days after the date set for a hearing before the State Board of Health, as provided for in this section; and in the event of an appeal from the decision of the State Board of Health after such hearing, the revocation of any license shall not become effective until the decision of the Circuit Court for the county or of the Baltimore City Court has been rendered against such person, firm or corporation taking such appeal.

206D. Any person, firm or corporation who shall operate a cannery without having obtained a license as provided by this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500).
