

cation of such suspended fiduciary in pursuance of the terms of the order of reinstatement passed in his behalf.

(g) Except for the right to apply for reinstatement as hereinafter provided, the status of such suspended fiduciary, during the period of suspension, in respect to the trust, the title and possession of the trust property and the administration thereof, shall be the same as that of a trustee who has been permanently removed from the trusteeship upon his voluntary application.

(h) Upon the passage of an order of suspension of a fiduciary engaged in war service under the provisions hereof, the substitute or successor fiduciary, if any be appointed in pursuance of this section, or the remaining co-fiduciaries, if any, shall forthwith succeed to and exercise all of the powers, discretions and duties of the fiduciary so suspended unless an intention to the contrary is expressly declared in the will, deed or other instrument creating the trust; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall relieve a fiduciary who enters war service (or his sureties) from liability for his administration of the trust during the period of his administration or relieve him of his duty to account therefor at such time as the court deem proper under the circumstances; nor shall anything in this section impose any liability upon any substitute or successor trustee for the administration of the trust by his predecessor or the latter's failure to properly account in due time for the assets of the trust, nor impose any liability upon the suspended fiduciary for the administration of the trust by his substitute or successor.

(i) The court appointing a substitute or successor fiduciary under the provisions of this section shall have, in addition to the powers herein specifically conferred, the same powers to remove, discharge or otherwise control such substitute or successor fiduciary as are conferred upon it by existing law with respect to other fiduciaries of similar trusts.

(j) If the trust be still current and require further administration after the suspended fiduciary shall have been discharged from war service or sufficiently relieved of such service to resume the duties of the trust, such suspended fiduciary shall be reinstated upon such terms and conditions as the court may direct, provided he make application for such reinstatement by appropriate petition with such notice to the acting and incumbent fiduciaries of the trust as the court may require, and provided, in the discretion of the court, there be no sufficient reason shown to refuse his application. In the event the court reinstate the applicant, an appropriate order shall be passed for such reinstatement and, in the
