

discretion of the court, for the removal of, and accounting by, the incumbent substitute or successor fiduciary theretofore appointed in pursuance of this section.

(k) The court, in its discretion, may require any substitute, successor or reinstated fiduciary appointed or reinstated under the foregoing provisions hereof to give bond in such penalty and upon such security as it may direct, regardless of whether or not the deed, will or other instrument creating the trust excuse the fiduciary named therein from giving bond.

(l) Upon the suspension of fiduciary in pursuance of this section, all right of such suspended fiduciary to compensation as a fiduciary of the trust shall forthwith cease and determine in respect to the administration of the trust during the period of suspension and the right to all compensation as would otherwise be payable to the suspended fiduciary during said period shall thereupon vest in the substitute or successor fiduciary appointed to act in his place or, where no substitute or successor be appointed, in the remaining fiduciary or fiduciaries administering the trust.

(m) The fiduciary or fiduciaries administering the trust, during the period of such suspension of a fiduciary in war service, shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law or rule of court or established practice applicable to the particular type of trust being administered, or, in the absence of any such law, rule of court or established practice, as is fixed by Section 280 of this Article as the same may from time to time be amended, subject to the provisions of any valid agreement determining the rate of compensation; but in the event the rate of compensation be fixed by the provisions of any instrument creating or relating to the trust and the amount thus determined be less than that otherwise allowable, the court may, by its order, fix a higher rate of compensation not exceeding what would be allowed under the provisions of the law, rule of court or established practice applicable to the trust being administered in the absence of any valid agreement determining the compensation.

(n) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent fiduciaries of a trust from agreeing upon any division of the compensation allowed them as they may deem proper; but in the absence of any such agreement and upon the application of any fiduciary and after notice to the other fiduciaries affected, the court may pass such order as to compensation as may be necessary, in its discretion, to effect a reasonable division of the compensation allowed, commensurate with the respective services of the fiduciaries interested.
