LAWS OF MARYLAND.

CHAP. 63.

CHAPTER 62.

Passed Feb. 10, 1841. An act to prohibit the construction of County Roads within the limits of Washington County, in certain cases.

Assent of the owner of house &c. to be obtained

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for the commissioners of Washington county to construct, or cause to be constructed, any public or county road within the limits of said county, so as to pass between any dwelling house and spring, well or reservoir of water used and necessary for family purposes, where the owner or owners of said dwelling house refuse to the commissioners aforesaid the right to construct and lay out such road between said dwelling house and any spring, well or reservoir of water; provided, said spring, well or reservoir of water is not situated from such dwelling house in distance more than two hundred yards; and provided also, that the tenants in possession of said dwelling are the legal and bona fide proprietors of the premises upon which both said dwelling, spring, well or reservoir are situated, any law inconsistent with the provisions of this act to the contrary notwithstanding.
