CHAPTER 229.

Passed Feb. 24, 1843. A further supplement to the act enlarging the powers of the High Court of Chancery.

Court may order the case to be proceeded in. SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That in any suit in the Court of Chancery, depending or to be depending against several defendants, the said suit shall not necessarily abate by the suggestion of the death of one or more of the said defendants against whom a decree for an account or partition or sale shall have been passed, or such other proceedings shall have been had after appearance as would have warranted the passing of such decree, or who shall have answered the bill of complaint, and thereby admitted the facts stated in the said bill, or failed to set up any defence to the relief therein prayed; but in such case, the said court at its discretion may order the cause to be proceeded in as if no such death had occurred, or require a bill of revivor or supplemental bill in nature of a bill of revivor, to be filed against the proper representative of the deceased party, as may seem best calculated to advance the purposes of justice; provided nevertheless, that in any case, if any heir, devisee or other proper represen-
