Passed Mar. 29, 1838. An act to authorise the Commissioners of Washington County to build a Bridge over the Antietam Creek, at Lewis Ziegler's Ford.

Commissioners authorised

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland,
That the Commissioners of Washington county be, and they are hereby authorised, at their discretion, to cause to be erected over Antietam creek, upon the best practicable site, at or near Lewis Ziegler's ford, on the road leading from Greencastle, Pennsylvania, to Baltimore, a substantial stone bridge, upon such plan, terms and conditions, and under such superintendence as they may deem most conducive to the public interest; and that they be, and are hereby authorised to levy, on the assessable property of said county, such sum or sums of money as they shall deem necessary to defray all the expenses in erecting said bridge.

CHAPTER 296.

Passed Mar. 29, 1838. An act for the benefit of Mary Manning, of Washington County.

Preamble

WHEREAS, it has been represented to the General Assembly of Maryland, that Mary Manning, of Washington county, was, in the year eighteen hundred and twenty-nine, united in lawful wedlock to a certain Wesley Manning, who lived with her five years, and had three children by her, all of whom are living, and dependent upon said mother for their support; that some time in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-four, the said Wesley Manning absented himself from home, and removed to parts unknown; that from that period up to this, time the said Wesley Manning has not been heard of; that sometime in the year of eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, her father, Jacob Sager, died, having made his will in due form, and bequeathed a certain distribution of his estate to his daughter, Mary Manning, and in that will appointed
