

corner of Lot No. 1, Block D, a subdivision known as "South Catoclin Park" lying on the east side of South Jefferson Street and developed by G. L. Thomas; (6) thence with a straight line southeasterly to stone No. 7 standing 2.50 feet east of the west boundary line of Mount Olivet Cemetery, said stone No. 7 also being 131.5 feet south of the center line of the east-west driveway dividing burial Section LL-MM in Mount Olivet Cemetery; (7) thence across said Cemetery with a straight line easterly to stone No. 8 on the east side of South Market Street, extended, opposite the dividing fence between the properties of the Loats Orphanage Farm and R. R. Lewis, Jr., said stone No. 8 also being 1525.0 feet north of the north side of the stone dwelling owned by Ransom R. Lewis, Jr., as measured along the center line of said South Market Street, extended; (8) thence with a straight line easterly along said dividing fence between the Loats Orphanage Farm and the R. R. Lewis, Jr., farm and the eastern prolongation of same, to stone No. 9 on the north side of East South Street extended and near the main entrance drive to the M. J. Grove Lime Company plant, said stone No. 9 being 14.45 feet south of the center line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad main track leading to Frederick and 339.5 feet west of the center line of the north-south County Road leading from the M. J. Grove Lime Company plant to East Patrick Street extended; (9) thence with a straight line northeasterly to stone No. 10 on the north side of said East Patrick Street, extended, said stone No. 10 being at the southeast corner of Lot No. 5, Block F, a subdivision known as "Trail Place", a subdivision of a part of the Trail Farm, made November 1, 1924; (10) thence with a straight line northeasterly along the dividing line between the farm of Albert E. King and said "Trail Place" subdivision, 2140.7 feet to stone No. 11 in said dividing line; (11) thence with a straight line northwesterly to stone No. 12 on the north side of East Church Street extended (commonly called Gas House Pike), said stone No. 12 being 3.0 feet south of the north fence line along said street and 102.5 feet west of the southwest corner, north concrete headwall, on a 4.0 foot span concrete box culvert crossing under said East Church Street extended, said culvert being approximately 650 feet west of the lane leading to the Routzahn Farm; (12) thence with a straight line northwesterly to stone No. 13 on the west side of North Market Street, extended, said stone No. 13, being 25.0 feet west of the center line of said North Market Street extended, and 78.0 feet north of the center line of the main central drive leading from North Market Street, extended, to the