CHAPTER 124.

An act for the benefit of the Heirs of Amelia Henrietta Fulton.

Passed Feb. 21, 1845.

WHEREAS, it has been represented to this General Assembly, by the petition of Robert Fulton, that Doctor Henry Keerl, late of the city of Baltimore, did by his last will and testament, (duly proved and recorded in the office of the Register of Wills for Baltimore county,) give, devise and bequeath one seventh part of the residue of his estate, real, personal and mixed, unto his friend Charles Bohn, and his son, George H. Keerl, and the survivor of them, in trust, for the sole and exclusive use of his, the testator's daughter, Amelia Henrietta, during her life, free from all control of any future husband, or liability to any of his debts or contracts, and after her death, then in further trust for such children as she might leave at the time of her death, to be conveyed and assigned to such children, absolutely, by said trustees, or the survivor of them, in equal proportions, absolutely; provided, that no such conveyance or assignment should be made until the children to whom the same is to be made, should have severally attained the age of twenty-one years; that under and by virtue of certain proceedings, subsequently had in the Chancery court of this State, the rest and residue of the estate of said Doctor Henry Keerl, mentioned in his will aforesaid, was divided amongst his children and devisees; and by a decree of said court, all the estate and interest, right and title, of the said Amelia Henrietta Keerl, in and to the same, became vest-
