

CHAP. 75.

said act of assembly; and that afterwards in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, by authority of the congregation aforesaid, a change was made, and the original plan or constitution was repealed and a new one adopted, and trustees were at that time elected, who acknowledged the same as required by said act of assembly; but the said society or congregation have lately become aware of the fact that, by some neglect, the said constitution has not been recorded as required by said act, and as intended by the society when it was adopted; and that the said society have lately passed a resolution recognizing the constitution of eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, as the present constitution of the society, and have directed the present trustees of said society again to acknowledge the same, and to have it recorded as required by said act of assembly, and to take such other proceedings as may be necessary to render legal and valid said constitution of eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, and all proceedings which have heretofore been or may hereafter be adopted under it, and the said trustees have prayed the General Assembly to pass this act—Therefore,

Made valid.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the said constitution of eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, when recorded, and all proceedings which have heretofore been or which may hereafter be adopted under it, shall be as legal and valid to all intents and purposes whatever, as if the said constitution had been recorded within six months after the acknowledgement of it in eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, in accordance with the provisions of the fifth section of the said act of eighteen hundred and two, chapter one hundred and eleven.

CHAPTER 75.
