after such decision, and the said appeal shall be heard at the first term of the next ensuing Court of Appeals; Provided, however, that the said writ of attachment Provisoes.
shall not remain in force or effect beyond the time of ten days after the judge shall have decided to quash the same on the return thereof, unless the party appealing shall file a bond in such penalty and with such security as may be approved by said judge, conditioned to prosecute said appeal, with effect, or in default thereof to pay such costs and damages as the absent defendant or defendants, or other parties interested in said property, goods and credits may incur or suffer by reason of such attachment and appeal; And provided further, that the party appealing shall have ten days from the date of the order or judgment quashing any such writ of attachment, within which he may file his bond as aforesaid, and the said writ of attachment shall remain in force during the ten days.
