

section, and shall also receive the answers of insolvents to interrogatories, and report on such interrogatories and answers to the court, and shall receive such compensation as said court may prescribe, to be paid by the parties applying for the benefit of this act, and shall not be less than two dollars nor more than five dollars to each applicant, and all sums of money received from such applicant by the said commissioner, beyond the aggregate of twelve hundred dollars per annum, shall be paid into the Treasury of the State.

SEC. 18. And be it enacted, That the word his, in this act, includes her, he includes she, and trustee includes trustees; the commissions allowed trustees are not to exceed eight per centum.

SEC. 19. And be it enacted, That any creditor may examine orally an insolvent, or any one to whom he has conveyed property, or may have an issue made and tried by a jury, and any creditor may file allegations of fraud at any time, within two years after the time of the final discharge of an insolvent, and have issues made thereon and tried by a jury, and if such issues be found against the insolvent, his discharge and release shall be annulled and rescinded, in any case of objection to the release of an insolvent, whether by interrogatories or otherwise, the party against whom the decision is made to pay costs, as in other cases.

SEC. 20. And be it enacted, That any person interested may appeal from the decision of the court on any question under this act; Provided, the appeal be taken in thirty days and bond given to prosecute with effect or pay costs and damages.

SEC. 21. And be it enacted, That this act is not to apply to fines and forfeitures for violating the laws of this State, or the ordinances of any municipal corporation, but any person imprisoned for thirty days for not paying a fine or forfeiture not exceeding fifty dollars, or for sixty days, when the fine exceeds fifty dollars, may petition and be released from such fines as if they were common debts.

SEC. 22. And be it enacted, That the provisions of this act shall not be construed to apply to, or in any manner release, discharge or affect any judgment recovered by civil action for injuries occasioned by the seduction of any female, nor to apply to, or in any manner release, discharge or affect any judgment recovered by civil action for damages, pursuant to an order, Commissions.

Creditor may examine orally an insolvent.

Right of appeal.

Application of law.

Construction of act.