

nine, chapter three hundred and sixteen, chapter three hundred and thirty-six, eighteen hundred and thirty-five, chapter two hundred and thirty-five, chapter three hundred and eighty-four, eighteen hundred and thirty-six, chapter seventy, chapter ninety-seven, chapter one hundred and thirty-four, chapter two hundred and ninety-three, eighteen hundred and thirty-nine, chapter three, chapter one hundred and twenty-six, eighteen hundred and forty-one, chapter three hundred and nine, eighteen hundred and forty-three, chapter one hundred and nine, chapter one hundred and twenty-six, chapter two hundred and seventy-eight, eighteen hundred and forty-five, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, chapter one hundred and thirty-nine, chapter two hundred and sixty-one, chapter three hundred and forty-nine, chapter three hundred and sixty-three, eighteen hundred and forty-seven, chapter one hundred and twenty, eighteen hundred and forty-nine, chapter one hundred and forty-eight, and all other acts so far as the same relate to insolvent debtors, their property and trustees are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 194.

AN ACT for the better protection of Slaveholders in the several counties therein mentioned.

Passed
Mar. 10, 1854.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the first day of May next, it shall not be lawful for any retailer, ordinary keeper, trader or person accustomed to make or sell spirituous or fermented liquors, to suffer any free negro or mulatto, or any negro or mulatto servant or slave, to be in his or her store house or ordinary or other house wherein he or she may be accustomed to make or sell spirituous or fermented liquors, or in any out house or shed belonging to, or used with the same, or belonging to or used with the tenement of which said store house, ordinary or other house as aforesaid, may be parcel, between sunset in the evening, and sunrise of the succeeding morning; Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to the case of such Unlawful to deal with negroes between sunset & sunrise.

Proviso