CHAP. 126.

sum raised by the drawing of the said last mentioned lottery, after the payment of incidental expenses thereby incurred, will be required to be paid into the state treasury for and on account of the aforesaid tax, amounting to fifteen thousand three hundred dollars, whereby the said John Owen and William Gibson, junior, will be deprived of the means produced by the said last mentioned lottery for paying the notes given by them, in their individual capacity, as aforesaid, to the said banks, for the aforesaid sum of thirteen thousand dollars, with interest thereon as aforesaid; and the said John Owen and William Gibson, junior, will consequently be subjected to the burthen of discharging those notes out of their own private funds: And whereas, injustice and equity, as also by virtue of the aforesaid bond of conveyance, the said John Owen and William Gibson, junior, are entitled to be secured and indemnified to the extent of the value of said lot, from all loss arising, or likely to arise from their accountability in their individual capacity as aforesaid, for the aforesaid sum of thirteen thousand dollars, with interest thereon as aforesaid;

On payment of tax authorised to discharge their notes due banks by surrendering bond of conveyance

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That upon the payment into the state treasury of the aforesaid sum of fifteen thousand three hundred dollars, due as aforesaid by the commissioners or managers of the said second lottery, to the state, for and on account of the tax imposed on said lottery by the act of eighteen hundred and seventeen before recited, the said John Owen and William Gibson, junior, or either of them, be and they are hereby authorised to discharge their notes, so given as aforesaid, to the Bank of Baltimore and Bank of Maryland, for the sum of thirteen thousand dollars, in manner as aforesaid, by surrendering to the said banks the aforesaid bond of conveyance, executed by them on the thirty-first day of May eighteen hundred and seventeen as aforesaid, or in case the said banks refuse to come into that arrangement, that the said John Owen and William Gibson, junior, be and they are hereby authorised to sell and dispose of the said lot to the best advantage, as soon as they shall have fully paid and discharged their notes to the banks aforesaid, with the interest thereon due as aforesaid, and any other existing claim against the said institution or the property aforesaid, to be adjusted by the treasurer of the western shore, provided before they proceed to make any sale, they shall give bond, with security, to the state of Maryland, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the treasurer of the western shore, conditioned for the payment of the surplus of the funds arising from said sale, if any, into the state treasury, for the use of the state of Maryland.

State's right to lot of ground relinquished

2. And be it enacted, That all the right, title and interest whatsoever, of the state of Maryland, in and to the aforesaid lot of ground, be and the same is hereby relinquished, except as excepted in the foregoing proviso; and that upon the provisions of this act being complied with, the commissioners aforesaid be and they are hereby discharged from all accountability in relation to the lotteries aforesaid.

CHAP. CXXVII.

Passed Feb 8, 1820 An Act to prevent Swine from going at large in Union-Town, of Frederick County.

Swine going at large may be impounded

1. Be it enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the first day of April next, no swine belonging to the inhabitants of Union-town, of Frederick county, shall be suffered to