

cluding a reasonable attorney's fee. No person shall charge or collect any compensation for legal services in connection with any claims arising under this Article, or for services or treatment rendered or supplies furnished pursuant to Section 36 of this Article, unless the same be approved by the Commission. When so approved, such [claim] fee or claims shall become a lien upon the compensation awarded, but shall be paid therefrom only in the manner fixed by the Commission [.] , which may direct such fee or claims to be paid in a lump sum to be deducted from the terminal weeks of compensation payable under such award, and without discount; provided, however, that in all permanent total disability cases, the Commission shall direct such fee or claims to be reimbursed by the injured employee to the employer or insurer, by providing in its order that a portion, as fixed by the Commission, of each weekly payment payable to the employee under such award, shall be retained by the employer or insurer, each week, until the amount of the fee or claims shall have been repaid. Upon application of any party in interest, the Commission shall have full power to hear and determine any and all questions which may arise concerning legal services rendered in connection with any claim under this Article and may order any attorney or other person receiving the same, to refund to the person paying the same, any portion of any charge for legal services which the Commission may, in its discretion, deem excessive. Orders of the Commission regulating payments and refunds for legal services may be enforced in the courts of this State, or may be appealed from in like manner as awards for compensation under this Article.

53. At any time after a claim for compensation under this Article has been filed with the Workmen's Compensation Commission by any claimant, the said claimant and/or his or her dependents may, with the approval of the Commission, enter into an agreement with the employer or insurer of such employer providing for a final compromise and settlement of any and all claims which the said employee or his or her dependents might then or thereafter have under the provisions of this Article, upon such terms and conditions as the Commission shall, in its discretion, deem proper. Any such settlement when approved by the Commission shall be binding upon all parties thereto, and no such settlement shall be effective unless approved by the Commission. Upon death, any balance payable under such final compromise and settlement shall be an asset in the hands of the personal representative of the deceased party to such final compromise and settlement.

57. (a) Any employer, employee, beneficiary or person feeling aggrieved by any decision of the Commission affecting his interests under this Article, may have the same reviewed by a proceeding in the nature of an appeal and initiated in the circuit court of the county or in the common law courts of Baltimore City having jurisdiction over the place where the accident occurred or over the person appealing from such decision, and the court shall determine whether the Commission has justly considered all the facts concerning the injury, whether it has exceeded the powers granted it by the Article, and whether it has misconstrued the law and facts applicable in the case decided. In the event that an appeal shall be taken to a court other than the Circuit Court of the County or to a Common Law Court of Baltimore City having jurisdiction over the place where the accident occurred or over the person appealing from such de-
