

If the Convention shall find that said Parish is in fact non-functioning as aforesaid, then, but not until then, the Bishop shall temporarily take over and administer the affairs of such Parish upon obtaining for its use and benefit sufficient missionary financial support to continue its functions, if he shall deem it to be feasible to do so, and, in any event, the Bishop shall exercise and continue to exercise from time to time such supervision and control over the Parish property as he may deem necessary until such Parish shall be able to resume minimum functioning, or until its property is disposed of pursuant to the provision of Section 288L (e) of this sub-heading, but if for any reason the provisions of said Section 288L (e) are not or cannot be carried into effect, and it is impracticable or inexpedient to continue the corporate activities of the Parish, then, but only in that event, the Bishop, or in his absence, the President of the Standing Committee of the Diocese, shall cause a bill or petition to be filed pursuant to the provisions of law regulating the dissolution of charitable and religious corporations to the end that a court of equity may by its decree determine the disposition of all or any part of the corporate property not needed for the payment of the corporate debts, and direct and provide for the transfer of such property by the exercise of the judicial power of cy pres.

While said temporary supervision and control is being exercised by the Bishop, the Vestry shall not interfere with such supervision and control in any manner whatsoever, nor shall the Vestry have power to make new contracts or engagements, or in any way bind the property of said Parish, without the approval of the Bishop in writing first had and obtained.

288N. CONSTRUCTION OF ACT.
