

the County for the cost of such project, pursuant to the authority of Section 84A, including the interest on such bonds to date of payment and any redemption premium payable for such bonds. Likewise, and subject to the same proviso, any such project and the property acquired therefor may be sold by the County if it shall find that said project and property are no longer needed for the public purposes and use aforesaid, provided that any such sale shall only be made to the highest responsible competitive bidder at public sale after the County shall have given at least two weeks' published notice thereof. The proceeds of any such sale, over and above the amounts needed to liquidate said bonds, and the interest and premium thereon, as aforesaid, shall become part of the general funds of the County, free of any trust or other lien, available for expenditure by the County on any of its corporate purposes, including those set forth in Section 84A of this Article.

84F. No project shall be undertaken or financed by the County Commissioners of Charles County pursuant to Sections 84A or 84C of this Article unless, prior to such undertaking, the County shall have made a finding with respect to any public service project that the estimated fees, assessments, rents, tolls, charges and revenues from such project will be sufficient to pay the maturing principal of and interest on any revenue bonds issued by the County for such project, the sinking funds and other reserves required to be established under any trust indenture entered into, or any resolution passed by, the County with respect to such project and the costs of operation and maintenance of such project and, with respect to any project to be leased to a private operator, unless the County shall have entered into a binding lease with such operator providing for an annual rental which will likewise be sufficient to pay the maturing principal of and interest on bonds issued by the County for such project and the sinking fund payments and reserves and other charges required to be established or paid under any trust indenture or resolution executed or passed by the County to secure any such issue of bonds. All moneys received by the County from the sale of any revenue bonds issued under the provisions of Section 84C of this Article shall be applied solely for the purpose for which such bonds or other obligations shall be authorized, or to the sinking fund created for the payment of such bonds, and such funds are hereby declared to be trust funds for such purposes. Accordingly, there shall be and hereby is created and granted a lien upon any such moneys, until so applied, in favor of the holders of such bonds or other obligations, or in favor of the trustee appointed under any indenture of trust securing any such bonds or other obligations.

84G. The revenue bonds issued under the provisions of Section 84C shall not be deemed to constitute a pledge of the faith and credit of the County or of the State of Maryland, or any political subdivision thereof, but such revenue bonds shall be obligations of the County, payable solely from revenues of the project or projects securing the same. All such revenue bonds shall contain a statement of their face to the effect that the County Commissioners of Charles County is not obligated to pay such bonds or the interest thereon, except from such revenues. The issuance of such revenue bonds shall not directly, indirectly or contingently obligate or empower the County Commissioners of Charles County to levy or pledge
