I want to thank you, the Members of the House, for your confidence in re-electing me your presiding officer for this extra session.

We are here to keep the good laws passed during the recent 90 day session on the books, and with your cooperation we will do just that.

I know that we will handle the business before us with speed and dispatch so as to be a credit to our constituents of this great State of Maryland. So, let us all cooperate in passing the legislation for which this session was called.

Which was read and journalized.
