

be ordered or made if the said person has been released from confinement for the particular crime or offense of which he was convicted.

(d) The request for such an examination shall be by petition filed with the court having custody of or jurisdiction over the said person, stating therein the reasons for suspecting or supposing the presence of defective delinquency in the said person. The court in ordering such examination [by the institution for defective delinquents] shall do so by formal written order directed to [the Department of Correction and to the institution for defective delinquents] Patuxent Institution. When the person to be examined is in the custody of the Department of Correction, such order shall also be directed to the Department of Correction, except in cases in which the Department of Correction has itself requested examination.

(e) The court which last sentenced the defendant, whether or not the term of court in which he was sentenced has expired, shall retain jurisdiction of the defendant for the purpose of any of the procedures specified in Sections 6, 7, 8 or 9 hereof [.] , except that the Criminal Court of Baltimore City shall for such purpose have jurisdiction of a person last sentenced by the Municipal Court of Baltimore City.

(a) Any such examination shall be made by at least three persons on behalf of the institution for defective delinquents, one of whom shall be a medical physician, one a psychiatrist, and one a psychologist. They shall assemble all pertinent information about the person to be examined, before proceeding therewith, including a complete statement of the crime for which he has been sentenced, the circumstances of such crime, the court in which he was sentenced, the nature of the sentence, copies of any probation or other reports which may have been made about him, and reports as to his social, physical, mental and psychiatric condition and history. On the basis of all the assembled information, plus their own personal examination and study of the said person, they shall determine whether in their opinion, or in the opinion of a majority of them, the said person is or is not a defective delinquent. They shall state their findings in a written report addressed to the court. If the substance of the report is that the said person is not a defective delinquent, he shall be retained in the custody of the Department of Correction under his original sentence as if he had not been examined for possible defective delinquency. Provided, however, that the said person shall be returned to the custody of the Department of Correction with full credit for such time as he has already spent in the institution for defective delinquents or [elsewhere] within the custody of the Department of Correction including such allowances (or disallowances) relating to good behavior and/or work performed as the Board of Correction may determine under the provisions of Section 688 of Article 27 of the Code.

(b) In addition to the examination provided in the foregoing subparagraph (a), whenever a request has been made to examine any person for defective delinquency, [by the State's attorney or assistant State's attorney, or by] other than a request made by such person himself or by his attorney on his behalf, and whenever the court has on its own initiative ordered examination of any person, then such person shall be entitled, upon request, to be examined by a practi-
