Mr. Forrest proposed the following as an additional section:

And be it enacted, That the directors and officers of each and every banking institution in this State, shall (after the assets of their bank are exhausted) be held liable in their individual estate for balance of issues of their respective banks, to be recovered by the holder or holders of said issues, as in the mode provided for the recovery of other debts in this State; and it is hereby made the duty of every president and cashier of their respective banks, within twenty days after each regular election of said directors and officers to certify under oath, that the directors and officers elected by their respective banks hold assessable property to an amount equal to the circulating notes of their respective banks, which said certificate shall be approved and endorsed by the judge of the Circuit Court of the county or city in which said bank is located and forwarded to the Treasurer of the State, to be filed and recorded in his office, before said directors and officers shall proceed to discharge the duties of the offices to which they have been respectively elected.

And be it further enacted, that any election to fill a vacancy which may be created by death or otherwise, shall be subject to the above restrictions in this section.

Mr. Stirling called for the previous question;

Which was sustained.

The question then being,

"Shall the main question be now put?"

It was determined in the affirmative.

The question then being on the additional section proposed by Mr. Forrest,
