

(b) A pension which, together with his annuity shall provide a total retirement allowance equal to two per centum [ninety per centum of one-fiftieth] of his average final compensation for each of the first twenty-five years of creditable service and one per centum [one-sixtieth] of his average final compensation for each year after the first twenty-five years of creditable service, but in no event shall the total retirement allowance be less than thirty-five per centum of his average final compensation. [if such service retirement allowance exceeds one-quarter of his average final compensation; otherwise a pension which, together with his annuity, shall provide a total retirement allowance equal to one-quarter of his average final compensation, provided, however, that no such allowance shall exceed ninety per centum of one-fiftieth of his average final compensation for each year of creditable service were his service to continue until the attainment of age 55.]

(6) Upon retirement for special disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of 50 [55]; otherwise he shall receive a special disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

(a) An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and

(b) A pension of sixty-six and two-thirds [fifty] per centum of his average final compensation, but in no event shall his total special disability retirement allowance exceed his average final compensation.

(c) Upon the death of a member retired on a special disability retirement allowance, one-half of the allowance calculated above shall be continued to his widow, if he leaves a widow, to continue during her widowhood; or if there be no widow, or if the widow dies or remarries before the youngest child of such deceased retired member shall have attained the age of 18, then to his child or children under said age if he leaves children, divided in such manner as the board in its discretion shall determine to continue, as a joint and survivorship pension for the benefit of the child or children under said age until every child dies or attains said age.

(7)(a) Once each year during the first five years following the retirement of a member on a disability retirement allowance, and once in every three-year period thereafter, the Board of Trustees may, and upon his application shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of 50 [55] to undergo a medical examination, such examination to be made at the place of residence of such beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon, by the Medical Board. Should any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of 50 [55] refuse to submit to such medical examination, his allowance may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should his refusal continue for one year, all his rights in and to his pension may be revoked by the Board of Trustees.

(c) Should a disability beneficiary under the age of 50 [55] be restored to active service and should his annual compensation then or at any time prior to the age of 50 [55] be equal to or greater than his average final compensation at retirement, his retirement allowance shall cease, he shall again become a member of the Retirement System, and he shall contribute thereafter at the [same] rate ap-
