The gift becomes effective immediately after the death of the donor.

(c) The gift may be made either to a named donee, or without the naming of a donee. If the latter, the gift may be accepted by and utilized at the discretion of the attending physician at or following death. If the gift is made to a named donee who is not readily available at the time and place of death, and if the gift is evidenced by a properly executed card or other document carried on the donor's person, or in his effects, the attending physician at or following death may, in reliance upon the card or other document, accept and utilize the gift in his discretion, as the agent of the donee. The agent possesses and may exercise all of the rights and is entitled to all of the immunities of the donee under this Act.

(d) The donor may designate in his will or other document of gift the surgeon, physician, or technician to carry out the appropriate procedures. In the event of the non-availability of such designee, or in the absence of a designation, the donee or other person authorized to accept the gift may employ or authorize any licensed surgeon, licensed physician, or technician for the purpose.
