

herein, of elected judges and retired elected judges who died before June 1, 1955. In determining the amount which any widow is entitled to be paid after July 1, 1962, the pension of the deceased judge shall be calculated at the rates prescribed by Section 49 of Article 26 as of that date, notwithstanding that such judge may have died prior thereto.] Provided, however, that any spouses, qualified under subsection (d), who became entitled to benefits under subsections (a), (b) or (c) prior to July 1, 1968 shall not be entitled to receive a pension based upon the increases in the pension schedule provided by Section 49 of this article which became effective upon July 1, 1968 but shall continue to receive those benefits provided for by law immediately prior to that date.

(f) The pension specified in subsections (a), (b) and (c) shall be paid by the State in full amount to all spouses who receive no supplementation from a political subdivision or subdivisions. The pension specified in subsections (a), (b) and (c) shall be paid by the State in reduced amounts to all spouses who became entitled to benefits on or after July 1, 1968 and who receive supplementation of pension from a political subdivision or subdivisions. In such event the spouse shall be paid annually by the State an amount computed by subtracting from the sums allowable under subsections (a), (b) and (c), a sum equal to the annual supplementation.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article, any Judge elected to and holding office, in a political subdivision providing as of January 1, 1968 for retirement benefits for widows of judges, in excess of those provided herein shall be entitled to receive from said political subdivision upon his retirement the difference between what is provided herein and what said Judge would have received had this act not been enacted. This provision and exception will also apply to spouses of such Judges in the event said Judge should die in office or after retirement.
