So the house refused to reconsider.

The next in order are the unfavorable reports of the committee on military pensions and revolutionary claims, on the petitions of Elizabeth Hohne and of Henry Coulter;

Read the second time and concurred in.

The next in order is the unfavorable report of the committee on colored population on the petition of Jesse Chesney;

Read the second time and concurred in.

The next in order are the unfavorable reports of the committee on divorces, on the petitions of Emeline Marr, and of George Hinkle;

Read the second time and concurred in.

The next in order is the unfavorable report of the committee on education on the memorial of sundry citizens of North East in Cecil county, praying the legislature to grant them a portion of the poor school fund of said county;

Read the second time and concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Risteau,

The house took up for consideration the bill entitled, an act for the better regulation and defining the taking of testimony in all applications for divorces;

Mr. Mason moved to lay the same on the table.

On the question being put,

It was determined in the negative.

The question then recurred on the passage of the said bill, and on being put,

It was determined in the affirmative.
