So the house refused to concur in said report.

The question then recurred on concurring in the report of the majority of said committee, being on the adoption of the order submitted by the said majority of said committee.

Mr. Johnson submitted the following as a substitute for said order:

Ordered, That the committee raised upon the subject of the printing of this house, contract with the individual with whom the contract for such printing was made by the joint committee of the last Legislature and upon the terms of said contract.

Which was read; On the question being put, will the house adopt the said substitute? It was determined in the negative.

The question again recurred npon the adoption of the original order;

Mr. Johnson moved to amend said order by striking out all after the word "ordered," and inserting the following: "that the clerk of the house employ Jeremiah Hughes to execute the print-
