NOTE

Twenty-seven bills were vetoed by the Governor of Maryland following the 1969 regular session of the General Assembly. Six of these bills originated in the Senate, and 21 of the bills originated in the House of Delegates.

Following the provisions of Section 17 of Article II of the Constitution of Maryland, all vetoed bills ordinarily must be referred to the House in which they originated immediately after that House has organized at the next regular or special session of the General Assembly, for reconsideration.

However, the Constitution further provides that no vetoed bill is to be returned to the Legislature when a new General Assembly has been elected and sworn since the passage of the vetoed bill. Accordingly, unless there is a special session of the General Assembly during 1970 or early 1971 and prior to the swearing in of a new General Assembly, the vetoed bills will not be returned to the Legislature for further legislative action.
