(j) Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, is subject to the following penalties. The first conviction is punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), a second conviction is punished by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), for each employee caused, directed, permitted or authorized to work in violation of this section. 616½.

Any person charged with and indicted by a grand jury of this State or charged by a criminal information for an offense as hereinafter enumerated which was committed during the time said person had been released on bail or his own recognizance for committing an offense as hereinafter enumerated, shall become ineligible to give bail or be released on recognizance on any subsequent charge, until such time as all prior charges hereunder have finally been determined by the courts. Provided, however, that a person charged with and indicted for a subsequent crime as hereinafter set forth, may rebut his ineligibility for release on bail or recognizance before determination of the prior charge. If, after consideration of the matters presented in rebuttal, the court hearing the application for bail is persuaded that the applicant would not pose a danger to any other person or to the community, and would appear at the time set for trial, the court may allow release pending trial on suitable bail or recognizance and on such other conditions as will reasonably assure that the person charged will not flee. For the purposes of this section, the offenses shall be those specified in the following sections of Article 27 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1967 Replacement Volume) as they may be amended from time to time:

- (1) Section 6 (relating to burning of property, etc.);
- (2) Section 7 (relating to burning of barn, garage, church, etc.);

- [(9)] (7) Section 30 (relating to breaking into a dwelling with intent to steal or commit a felony);
- [(10)] (8) Section 33 (relating to breaking into shops, etc. and stealing);
