

parcel of a tract or parcel of Land called Homewood's Lot patented upon a Resurvey of Eight Several Tracts containing in the whole One Thousand three hundred and Ninety two Acres Beginning for the said tract or parcel at a Stone whereon are graven these Words "Begining of Homewood's Lot" now fixed in the Ground in the Middle between two bounded White Oaks Standing about a perch from the head of a Creek called Scotchers Creek the said two white Oaks being the beginning Trees of the Resurvey of the whole Tract called Homewood's Lot as resurveyed the Tenth day of August Anno Domini Seventeen hundred and thirty four and patented to Thomas Homewood the Nineteenth day of February Seventeen hundred and thirty five and running from the said Stone marked as aforesaid to the head of the Creek then down with the said Scotchers Creek as the said Creek runneth and with the Water Edge thereof to a Small Post bounded with Twelve Notches, the said Post being heretofore planted at the very Spot where the Original Marked Red Oak of Fullers Land now commonly called and known by the name of White Hall did stand on a Marshside near the head of a Cove of Scotchers Creek and on the south side of the head of said Cove and close to which Post is now fixed a Stone whereon are graven these Words "Here stood W^m Fullers Red Oak" (the aforesaid Post being referred to in a Patent that was in the Year Seventeen hundred and Six granted for a tract of Land called Homewood's purchase and also in the patent that was granted in Seventeen hundred and thirty five for a tract called Homewood's Lot into which last mentioned Tract the Tract called Homewood's purchase was resurveyed) then running from the said Post or Stone marked as aforesaid with Fullers Land the following Courses Viz: North West Sixty five perches and South West Seventy six perches to a little marsh thence on the March South Eighty two degrees West to the Side of a Creek called Homewood's Creek Then up and with the said Creek as the Creek runneth and with the Water Edge thereof to a Stone whereon are graven these Words "The Division Bound^y Between H.S. and I.H. 1765" now fixed on the East Side of a Cove that lies to the South Eastward of the Brick Dwelling

Dwelling
 said Cove seven deg
 a line draw bounded marked and sixty to which where on Homewood
 running the Cove
 Homewood
 words bounded and six
 The
 as aforesaid
 Homewood
 and
 To
 two running
 South
 North perches degrees