

time as the procedures of this subtitle for the determination of whether or not said person is a defective delinquent have been completed. [E, without regard to whether or not the criminal sentence to which he was last sentenced has expired.] The court which last sentenced the defendant, [whether or not the term of court in which he was sentenced has expired] shall retain jurisdiction of the defendant for the purpose of any of the procedures specified in Sections 6, 7, 8 or 9 hereof, except that the Criminal Court of Baltimore City and the Circuit Court of Anne Arundel County shall for such purposes have jurisdiction of a person last sentenced by the Municipal Court of Baltimore City and the People's Court of Anne Arundel County, respectively.

(a) Any such examination shall be made by at least three persons on behalf of the institution for defective delinquents, one of whom shall be a medical physician, one a psychiatrist, and one a psychologist. They shall assemble all pertinent information about the person to be examined, before proceeding therewith, including a complete statement of the crime for which he has been sentenced, the circumstances of such crime, the court in which he was sentenced, the nature of the sentence, copies of any probation or other reports which may have been made about him, and reports as to his social, physical, mental and psychiatric condition and history. On the basis of all the assembled information, plus their own personal examination and study of the said person, they shall determine whether in their opinion, or in the opinion of a majority of them, the said person is or is not a defective delinquent. They shall state their findings in a written report addressed to the court, no later than six months from the date said person was received in the Institution for examination, or three months, before expiration of his sentence, whichever [last] first occurs. If the substance of the report is that the said person is not a defective delinquent, he shall be retained in the custody of the Department of Correction under his original sentence as if he had not been examined for possible defective delinquency. Provided, however, that the said person shall be returned to the custody of the Department of Correction with full credit for such time as he has already spent in the institution for defective delinquents or within the custody of the Department of Correction including such allowances (or disallowances) relating to good behavior and/or work performed as the Board of Correction may determine under the provisions of Section 688 of Article 27 of the Code.

(a) If the court or the jury, as the case may be, shall find and determine prior to the expiration of the defendant's sentence that the said defendant is not a defective delinquent, the court shall order him returned to the custody of the Department of Correction, and he shall begin or resume his period of confinement on said conviction as if he had not been examined for possible defective delinquency. Provided, however, that the said defendant shall be returned to custody under his original sentence with full credit for such time as he has already spent in the institution for defective delinquents or within the custody of the Department of Correction including such allowances (or disallowances) relating to good behavior and/or work performed
