

the agreement by the District Court judge. A prisoner released from actual confinement who wilfully fails to return to the county jail at the time specified in such agreement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be subject to the penalties provided for escape in Article 27, § 139, of this Code. A prisoner released from actual confinement who violates any other condition of such agreement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be subject to an additional term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than six months.

(3) Disposition of earnings.—A prisoner employed pursuant to this section shall surrender to the Department of Parole and Probation his total earnings, less payroll deductions required by law. The Department shall deduct and disburse from such earnings, in the following order of priority: (i) the cost to the county of providing food and lodging for such prisoner, (ii) the actual and necessary food, travel and other expenses of such prisoner when released from actual confinement in connection with his employment, (iii) any fines and costs imposed by the District Court, (iv) such amount as the prisoner may be legally obligated to pay for the support of his dependents. Any balance remaining after such deductions and disbursements shall be paid to the prisoner upon his final release.

(4) Status of prisoner.—No prisoner employed in the community under the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be an agent, employee or involuntary servant of Queen Anne's County, the Sheriff of the county, or any other judicial or public officer.

(5) Supplemental powers of District Court judge; revocation, change, or modification of release; termination of release; probation.—This section is supplemental to the powers of the District Court judge contained in Article 26, §§ 146 and 147. At any time during the period of confinement imposed by the judge he may (i) revoke, change or modify any release, or the conditions of such release, under this section in the manner and to the extent provided by Article 27, § 700A, (ii) release any prisoner under the provisions of this section, notwithstanding that he has already served part of a sentence previously imposed, or (iii) terminate any release pursuant to this section and place any person under probation as provided in Article 26, § 146.

(b) Anne Arundel County.—A District Court judge may place convicted offenders incarcerated at the Anne Arundel County detention center on a work release program under which persons sentenced to imprisonment in the Anne Arundel County detention center may be granted the privilege of leaving actual confinement during reasonable hours for the purpose of working at gainful employment, and to make such provisions for the payment of the offender's lawful obligations, after payroll deductions required by law, for support of his dependents, restitution, payment of fines, court costs including repayment to the county for assigned counsel, and such amount determined to be the cost to the county of providing food, lodging and clothing for the offender, from the moneys earned by him as the court shall deem reasonable and proper. The earnings of the prisoner shall be collected and disbursed by the State Department of Parole and Probation as directed by the court.
