

the orphan's court. Art. 93A, §105 provides that orphan's courts and circuit courts have concurrent jurisdiction over protective proceedings for minors. Additionally, Art. 93A, §§ 401 - 408 provide for supervision by a circuit court of a tort recovery in excess of $2,000. Whether or not these sections include the power to approve a settlement is unclear. Whether this section, or the Art. 93A procedures should control will be referred to the legislature. A further problem exists where a parent is living, but is not available, or refuses to approve a settlement. Approval of the court would not be permitted under subsection (c) in such cases.
