

(c) If a defendant in a criminal case has a right to file a petition for a writ of certiorari in the Court of Appeals or Court of Special Appeals and files a petition under oath alleging the fact of his poverty and his inability to pay the costs of filing the petition, the court in which the petition is filed, upon being satisfied that the allegations are true, shall order the State to pay the costs of filing the petition, and if it is granted, the costs of appeal.

(d) If for the purposes of an appeal, application for leave to appeal, or writ of certiorari, a court finds a defendant indigent, there shall be no filing fees in the Court of Appeals or the Court of Special Appeals.

(e) The Court of Appeals or the Court of Special Appeals may allow a court appointed counsel a reasonable counsel fee for services rendered the defendant. The fee shall be paid by the State.]

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED, That this Act shall take effect July 1, 1974.

Approved May 31, 1974.
