

permit automobile dealers to do business on Sunday. Such a regional effect is neither needed nor desired by the automobile industry and its employees.

In addition, while the bill may justifiably relate to the convenience of the buying public, there has been no public demand for automobile dealers to remain open on Sunday. Not one citizen of Charles County has written to me in support of this bill, although hundreds have written opposing it. I am informed that most automobile dealers operate on a 6 day, 75 hour a week schedule, thereby providing adequate sales service to the consumer. I am further informed that as financing cannot be arranged, insurance cannot be finalized, and liens cannot be determined on Sunday, delivery to the consumer is impossible.

For these reasons, I have decided to veto House Bill 967.

Sincerely,
/s/ Marvin Mandel
Governor

House Bill No. 1059 - Aid to Nonpublic
Institutions of Higher Education

AN ACT concerning

Higher Education - Aid to Nonpublic Institutions

FOR the purpose of providing an additional qualification which certain nonpublic institutions of higher education must meet in order to receive State aid apportionments, altering the formula by which such aid is computed for fiscal year 1975 and for subsequent years, and relating generally to State aid to nonpublic institutions of higher education.

May 31, 1974.

Honorable John Hanson Briscoe
Speaker of the House of Delegates
State House
Annapolis, Maryland 21404

Dear Mr. Speaker:

In accordance with Article II, Section 17 of the Maryland Constitution, I have today vetoed House Bill
