No. 68

(House Joint Resolution 89)

A House Joint Resolution concerning

Future Utilization of Tome Hill School

FOR the purpose of requesting the Maryland Council for Higher Education to conduct a feasibility study to determine the possible future utilization of the Tome Hill School facility located in Cecil County as a site for possible future post-secondary educational programs for northeastern Maryland.

The Tome Hill School is situated on a 60 acre site and contains many buildings including 5 classroom and residence buildings and is adjacent to 80 acres of recreational and athletic areas.

The site has always been used as an educational institution, first as a private school prior to 1942 and more recently as a preparatory school for the United States Naval Academy.

This underutilized facility lies within close proximity of rapidly growing economic and population areas in northeastern Maryland.

The property is neighboring the Donaldson Brown Center which is actively used by the University of Maryland and could economically be used as a public education center; now, therefore, be it further

RESOLVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF MARYLAND, That this Body requests the Maryland Council for Higher Education to conduct a feasibility study to determine the future use of the Tome Hill School facility for educational programs in the area; and be it
