

Dear Sir

In my last letter which I wrote you by the Brig Bonanza, I communicate to you how sorry I was about having received the answer of the letter which I wrote to my father, respecting the funds. I expected to have seen to you by the said Brig, unfortunately for us, the packet which my father, (as I expected) had sent with the said funds, had contrary winds in its passage, and did not arrive here, until ten days after the departure of the Brig. You may imagine how disappointed I was, particularly being in other opportunity in this Port, which I might have profited by, had I not departed from there to Havana.

I shall sail from here to Havana in the course of a few days, and immediately after my arrival there, if there is not an opportunity directly, they will be given orders to the house of Juan & Manuel at the Havana, as I mentioned you in my last letter to write to you by the first opportunity either in person or in writing, the affairs of funds. My father in his letter to me, thanks you sincerely for the favours you have done me, and hopes that you are persuaded, you will give him the greatest pleasure, by affording him opportunities of showing to you his gratitude. In my own part I have nothing to add but that I am extremely sorry of the delay of the funds, and I hope you will excuse it, not having
