

provisions not inconsistent with this [subheading] ACT deemed necessary or advisable for the conduct of its business. Such articles shall be signed by each incorporator and acknowledged by at least two of the incorporators, or on their behalf, if they are cooperatives. It shall not be necessary to recite in the articles of incorporation of a cooperative the purpose for which it is organized or any of its corporate powers.

[386] 8. Bylaws.

The board of directors shall adopt the first bylaws of a cooperative to be adopted following an incorporation, conversion, merger or consolidation. Thereafter the members shall adopt, amend or repeal the bylaws by the affirmative vote of a majority of those members voting thereon at a meeting of the members. The bylaws shall set forth the rights and duties of members and directors and may contain other provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of the cooperative not inconsistent with this [subheading] ACT or with its articles of incorporation.

[387] 9. Members.

Each incorporator of a cooperative shall be a member thereof, but no other person may become a member thereof unless such other person agrees to use electric energy or other services furnished by the cooperative when they are made available through its facilities. Any member of a cooperative who agrees to use electric energy shall cease to be a member if he does not use electric energy supplied by the cooperative within six months after it is made available to him or if electric energy is not made available to him by the cooperative within two years after he becomes a member, or such lesser period as the bylaws of the cooperative may provide. A husband and wife may hold a joint membership in a cooperative. Membership in a cooperative shall not be transferable, except as provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may prescribe additional qualifications and limitations in respect of membership.

[388] 10. Meetings.

(a) Annual meeting. —An annual meeting of the members of a cooperative shall be held at such time and place as shall be provided in the bylaws.

(b) Special meetings. —Special meetings of the members may be called by the president, by the board of directors, by any three directors, or by not less than ten percentum of the members.

(c) Notice. —Except as otherwise provided in this [subheading] ACT, written or printed notice stating the time and place of each meeting of the members and, in the
