

even absent this clause. As to vehicles of a true nonresident that are maintained by residents, subsection (a) (2) (iv) adequately covers the situation.

In subsection (a) (2) (iv) of this section, the term "resident" is substituted for the present, more limited "resident operator". The present language has given rise to the argument that the State must prove not only 30 days of custody but, also, 30 days of actual operation by the resident; this result apparently was never intended and the revision more closely conforms to the legislative intent behind the condition.

In subsection (b) of this section, the word "vehicle" is substituted for "motor vehicle" to conform to the scope of the section and correct an apparently inadvertent error. The present reference to a "province" is deleted as superfluous in light of the reference to a "foreign country".

Subsection (d) of this section is revised to clarify that the referenced "internship" is a "medical internship in this State"; see, also, §16-102(5) of this article.

The only other changes are in style.
