

EXECUTIVE ORDERS

the collection and disbursement of domestic support payments by January 1, 1979.

(b) Such action shall include the transfer of appropriate positions; the institution of cooperative methods of on-the-job training; mutually agreeable arrangements concerning furniture and equipment, including data processing resources; a system for the orderly transfer of records and accounts; and the distribution of appropriate information to governmental agencies and to the public concerning the transfer of responsibility for domestic support payment collection and disbursement.

EXECUTIVE ORDER OF AUGUST 28, 1978

01.01.1978.11
RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION

WHEREAS, The State's interest and role in supervision of and financial assistance to railroad transportation facilities and services have increased during the past several years; and

WHEREAS, Recent federal legislation affords to the State an incentive to develop further its railroad transportation program; and

WHEREAS, Railroad transportation has been primarily the responsibility of the State Department of Transportation; and

WHEREAS, In carrying out its responsibilities for railroad transportation, the Department has utilized the personnel of various units within the department; and

WHEREAS, The increased responsibilities for operational activities in railroad transportation makes appropriate the concentration of this diverse personnel into one departmental unit, with primary responsibility for railroad transportation; and

WHEREAS, This governmental entity should be comparable to the other units of this Department, administering State transportation programs concerning highways, mass transit, ports, aviation, and motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, Approval of the Governor is required for the