

11.

The [State Department of] Juvenile Services ADMINISTRATION, within the annual budgetary appropriations therefor, may establish, maintain, and operate facilities as may be needed properly to diagnose, care for, train, educate, and rehabilitate children in need of these services, including, but not limited to, the Maryland Training School for Boys, Boys' Village of Maryland, Montrose School for Girls, [Maryland Children's Center,] Thomas J. S. Waxter Children's Center, and the several forestry camps. If the [State Department of] Juvenile Services ADMINISTRATION determines that a facility or facilities should be built or renovated, then, prior to the authorization of any bond issued by the Maryland General Assembly for construction or renovation, the [Department] JUVENILE SERVICES ADMINISTRATION shall consult with the governing bodies of both the county or Baltimore City in which the proposed facility or facilities is to be built and/or renovated and the counties or Baltimore City to be served concerning the proposed plans for construction or renovation.

12.

[(c) The Maryland Children's Center, subject to the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated by the Juvenile Services Administration, shall accept custody of children from the juvenile courts for the purpose of providing diagnostic evaluation. Any evaluation is to be performed within 30 days and the child is to be returned to the court with the evaluation record and appropriate treatment recommendations. The juvenile courts, or the Juvenile Services Administration, shall use the Maryland Children's Center for purposes of evaluation only and not for purposes of detention.]

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED, That this Act shall take effect July 1, 1980.

Approved April 22, 1980.
