

routine dental services, the second and sixth clauses of present Art. 32, § 11(k)(2) and the third clause of (3) also are deleted. See 62 Op. Att'y Gen. at 264-68.

Also as to subsection (a) of this section, the fifth clause of present Art. 32, § 11(k)(2) is deleted as unconstitutional in part and, to the extent that it is constitutional, as needlessly repetitive of present Art. 32, § 11(g), which now appears as § 4-314(a)(8) of this title. As to the constitutionality of the fifth clause of present Art. 32, § 11(k)(2), see 62 Op. Att'y Gen. at 263-66.

Also as to subsection (a) of this section, the Commission to Revise the Annotated Code calls to the attention of the General Assembly that the Attorney General has stated that subsection (a)(5) and (6) of this section is "facially constitutional" but that these provisions "present special dangers of overreaching and unconstitutional application". 62 Op. Att'y Gen. at 267.

As to subsection (b)(1) of this section, the provisions of present Art. 32, § 16 that relate to the size, location, and display of signs are deleted as unconstitutional. See 62 Op. Att'y Gen. at 268, and cases cited supra.

Subsection (b)(2) of this section may appear to be unnecessary because a licensed dentist may use any designation not prohibited expressly. However, the titles expressly authorized for use by present Art. 32, § 16 are retained in this section for clarity -- e.g., to make clear that although "Doctor of Dental Surgery" may not appear on a sign, the abbreviation "D.D.S." may appear.

In subsection (c) of this section, "dental appliance" is substituted for the enumeration of items in present Art. 32, § 25(b). "Dental appliance" is defined in § 4-101 of this title.

Present Art. 32, § 12(f), which relates to the severability of the provisions of present Art. 32, § 12, is deleted as unnecessary in light of Art. 1, § 23 of the Code.

Present Art. 32, § 15, which requires removal of certain signs by September 1, 1959, is deleted as obsolete. In addition, to the extent that present Art. 32, § 15 requires removal of signs that do not conform to the unconstitutional requirements of present Art. 32, § 16, those
