The present law is ambiguous, but it appears that an applicant who receives training out-of-state and seeks to be licensed in this State first may have to become licensed in another state and then waive into this State under present Art. 43, § 555B-17, which does allow the Board to evaluate an individual's out-of-state training. Subsection (d)(2) of this section states expressly that the Board may evaluate the out-of-state training of an applicant without the necessity of an intermediate license from another state. This addition is called to the attention of the General Assembly.

Subsection (d)(1) of this section is revised to clarify that an electrology education program that is approved under this title need not be taught at an approved institution of higher learning. This substitution is called to the attention of the General Assembly. As to the approval of an electrology education program, see §§ 5-401 and 5-402 of this title.

Subsection (e) of this section is rephrased in standard language to state expressly that if a license applicant is required to take an examination under this subtitle, then the applicant must pass that examination before the applicant may be licensed.

For the definition of "physician", see § 1-101 of this article.
