

health officer may proceed to process and issue the permit, if otherwise appropriate, without further regard to this subsection (a).

(b) In any permit issued after July 1, 1972, under the requirements of this section, the [county] health officer or health department responsible for issuing or approving the permit shall include therein a requirement that the person, firm, or corporation to whom or which the permit is issued must give notice in writing to any purchaser or lessee of the property for which the permit is issued of the fact that the property is served by a private septic tank or private septic system, and of the conditions, estimate of time, and other factors relative to the question of subsequent extension of public sanitary sewerage service to the property. The health officer issuing or approving the permit shall adopt reasonable procedures to implement this subsection, and in this connection may require a recordation of the notice by the permit holder among the land records of the county in which the property is located. If pursuant to subsection (a) above, the permit application was not submitted to the Commission by reason of the fact that the property for which the application was made is in an area not contemplated for public sewerage service within 10 years, as depicted in the then extant adopted 10-year sewerage plan of the pertinent county, that fact shall be noted on the permit and carried forward in the notice required by this subsection (b).
