

Article 43, § 289.

The only changes are in style.

GENERAL REVISOR'S NOTE:

Former Article 27, §§ 269 and 270, which related to "candy or cakes ... which may be deleterious, injurious or poisonous", are deleted. Although these sections appeared in Article 27 of the Code from 1886 through 1981, they were repealed by Ch. 156, Acts of 1910, and have never been reenacted.

Former Article 43, §§ 175, 177, 178, and 179, which originally were enacted in 1890 and which related generally to regulation by the Secretary of "diseased", "corrupted", "unwholesome", "adulterated", or "unsound" food, are deleted as obsolete and unnecessary. Most of the provisions of these former sections were repetitive of the provisions of law revised in this title. To the extent that the provisions of this title are inconsistent with these former sections, the provisions revised in this title, as later enactments, obviously were intended to control.

Former Article 43, §§ 210 through 216, which related generally to eggs and to licensing, by the Secretary, of persons to sell eggs, are deleted as obsolete. Eggs are now regulated by the State Department of Agriculture. See the Maryland Egg Law, which appears as § 4-301 et seq. of the Agriculture Article.
