

(f) Probation is the conditional exemption from imprisonment allowed any prisoner by suspension of sentence in the circuit court for any county of this State [or in the Criminal Court of Baltimore]. The condition of any order of probation shall be determined solely by the judge granting the same.

124.

(c) Prior to the sentence by the circuit court of any county [or the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City] to the jurisdiction of the Division of Correction of a defendant convicted of a felony, or the referral of any defendant to the Patuxent Institution, a presentence investigation shall be completed by the Division of Parole and Probation and considered by the court, unless the court specifically orders to the contrary in a particular case.

125.

The State's attorneys in the several counties and the City of Baltimore shall make and transmit to the Division and the Department of Correction a resume of the facts and evidence adduced in each case tried in the circuit courts of the [several] counties of the State [, and in the Criminal Court of Baltimore City] wherein a verdict of guilty was found, where the Division of Parole and Probation did not prepare a presentence investigation report, and where a sentence of 18 months or more has been imposed, so that each agency may have on file an abstract of each case in which application for parole may be made under provisions of this article.

188A.

(h) Any claimant aggrieved by a final determination of the Board may appeal to the circuit court of the county[, or common-law court of Baltimore City,] where the injury occurred or the claimant resides. The court may uphold the determination of the Board, remand for further consideration or findings of fact, or reverse or modify any determination which it finds to be arbitrary or unreasonable, and render decision accordingly. The Board may be a party to such appeal, and either party shall have a further right of appeal to the Court of Special Appeals.

204F.

(l) No court shall be required to entertain an inmate's grievance or complaint within the jurisdiction of the Inmate Grievance Commission unless and until the complainant has exhausted the remedies as provided in this section. Upon the final decision of the Secretary of Public Safety and Correctional Services, the complainant shall be entitled to judicial review thereof. Proceedings for review
