

to state expressly that a permit can be issued or approved to allow a connection to an individual septic system.

In subsection (e)(2) of this section, "planned" is substituted for the former term "contemplated", for clarity.

In subsections (e)(2) and (h)(1)(iii) of this section, the references to "within 10 years under the ... comprehensive plan for sewerage systems" is substituted for "10-year sewerage plan", for clarity.

Subsection (g)(1) of this section is new language added to state expressly the formerly only implied duty of the issuing authority to issue a permit to a qualified applicant.

In subsection (g)(2) of this section, the former reference to allowing the health officer to "proceed to process" the application is deleted as unnecessary in light of the authority of the health officer to issue the permit.

Also in subsection (g)(2) of this section, the reference to "if the permit otherwise complies with this section" is substituted for the former phrase "if otherwise appropriate" to state expressly the formerly only implied power to issue a permit if the requirements of this section are met.

In subsection (h)(1) of this section, "holder of a permit" is substituted for the former phrase "person, firm, or corporation to whom the permit is issued", in light of the definition of "person".
